

EU funding for Museums, Galleries & Archives in Europe

FINAL REPORT

of the European Union

1. Introduction & Brief

In order to understand better the needs of the museum sector with regard to the access and use of the EU funding programmes, NEMO has commissioned an analysis of the museums' participation in the centralized EU funding programmes. The aim of this study is to identify EU trans-national funding received by the museums, galleries and archives sector since 2014.

Recommendations to EU policy makers to increase the use of the EU centralized funding programmes by the museum sector following the analysis of this report are available attached to this report.

SECTORS

The sectors covered by NEMO are museums, galleries and archives.

FUNDING PROGRAMMES

The research covers the following centralized funding programmes:

- Creative Europe: Culture
- Creative Europe: Media
- Erasmus Plus
- Europe for Citizens
- Horizon 2020 (strands social sciences and humanities)

YEARS

The datasheets provided by the EC cover all grants for the "year of call" from 2014-2018 inclusive.

The deadlines in any "year of call" are at various dates in the previous year or that year. This means that it is possible that the project start date can be in the "year of call" or even the start of the following year - so, for 2014, there are a few projects starting in 2015, etc - and for 2018, there could be projects starting in 2019.

2. Gathering & Analysing the Information

The source data for this research came from the official websites of the relevant EU funding programmes, all of which provide information on all successful projects.

Spreadsheets containing detailed lists of all projects since 2014 were downloaded for the following programmes:

- Creative Europe (the relevant spreadsheet here covered all projects to date)
- Erasmus Plus (there were separate spreadsheets for each year that were separately analysed and then combined into an overall spreadsheet)
- Europe for Citizens (the relevant spreadsheet here covered all projects to date)

These were downloaded and then analysed for relevant projects (see below). These were identified using a keyword search using a series of keywords (in a range of languages) to cover the relevant NEMO sectors:

archiv ...	archive, archivo, archivio, archiv	galler...	gallery, galleria, gallerie, galleri
arhiv		muse ...	museum, museo, musee
arkiv		muuseum
galer ...	galerie, galerija, galerij	muz ...	muzej, muzeu, muziejus

Keywords were noted where they appeared in a range of fields: project title & sub-title, project theme, project description, partner name, partner type, partner website (but not others such as project address).

Relevant projects were then combined into a single spreadsheet. Initially, there were 2 tabs created for this spreadsheet:

- One with a row for each project
- One with a row for each partner

These tabs were expanded over the course of the research, and form the basis for the summary tables that appear in this report.

For Horizon 2020, an overall spreadsheet does not exist – instead, the relevant website provides a database that can be searched and then potentially relevant projects needed to be gathered into “booklets”, which were then saved as PDF documents (a total of 20 of these documents were compiled). These documents then had to be converted to Word documents and the relevant projects identified.

From all these documents, the data for relevant projects was gathered and transferred to the initial spreadsheet with the same 2 basic tabs as outlined above (i.e. for projects and for partners). The data from these tabs was then added to the summary tables in this report.

The final spreadsheet accompanies this report, and provides details of all relevant projects and partners. This spreadsheet now contains 11 tabs, which are explained in an Appendix section on the last page of this report. This also includes an explanation of abbreviations used in column headings.

NOTE RE EXCLUDED PROJECTS

As a principle, projects where one or more keywords only appeared in the project theme or description, but where there were no project partners with any of the keywords, were decided to be not relevant to the research.

For projects funded via Creative Europe and Europe for Citizens, 55-60% of the initial list of projects where the keywords were found, were then discarded as there were no relevant partners in these projects.

For Horizon 2020, 75-80% of the initial project results were discarded. For this programme, rather than actual museum / gallery / archive organisations as partners, the partners are universities, other higher education institutions, research institutes. etc.

CAVEAT RE POSSIBLE MISSED PROJECTS

A keyword search, as outlined above, had to be the basis of this research, given the large number of potential projects on the various EC spreadsheets and databases of all projects. It therefore has to be acknowledged that it is possible that some relevant organisations have been missed.

For example, while checking some source data, I came across "The Wallace Collection" (a UK gallery) and "Fundacion Coleccion Thyssen-Bornemisza" (a major museum of art in Spain) – neither of these names would have come up on any of the keyword searches – though hopefully they will have come up as their project title / description / themes will have contained such keywords.

However, a small number of relevant projects and/or partners may have been missed.

CAVEAT RE AMOUNTS GRANTED TO PROJECT PARTNERS

For Creative Europe, Erasmus+ and Europe for Citizens, the source databases only provide a figure for the total grant to the project, rather than the amount subsequently allocated / paid to any individual partners. For the purposes of this research, for these programmes, we have simply divided the total grant by the number of partners, and then used this as the amount allocated to any individual partners – in reality the actual amount will have been smaller or larger, but for these programmes there is no way of gathering data on the actual amounts received by any individual partner.

For Horizon 2020, the data states the specific amount to each partner, so these figures will be more accurate.

Please note that all projects can include “associate” partners (who may be from countries outside Europe) who do not receive any EU funds directly, but where the costs of their involvement are paid via the co-ordinator or one of the “full” partners. For Creative Europe, Erasmus+ and Europe for Citizens, the small number of associate partners have been included as receiving the same estimate as per full partners, but for H2020, where there were a higher percentage of associate partners (44 out of 133 partners, i.e. 33%), no amounts have been included for these partners as we have accurate figures for each full partner.

Analysis by Projects

The brief asked for the total number of projects including museums either as full or as associated partners, receiving EU funding at EU level, including the following details:

- average per country, country with most/least projects
- per programme, per strand
- by category according to thematic priority of project (research, audience development, mobility, learning, digital aspect etc.)

There are 521 organisations from 47 countries (including 7 from outside Europe), so the average per country is 11. Those above this average were: Austria, Belgium, Czech Rep, Germany, Denmark, Estonia, Spain, Finland, France, Croatia, Hungary, Ireland, Italy, Lithuania, Netherlands, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Sweden, Slovenia and the UK.

Analysis by Amounts Received

The brief asked for the total budget received for projects including museums in each of the programmes at EU level, showing the country(ies) that received most and the country(ies) that received least.

Creative Europe / Erasmus+ / Europe for Citizens

Using the estimated figures as explained at the start of this report, the total amount that went to relevant partners for Creative Europe, Erasmus+ and Europe for Citizens was 32,278,387 euros. The following table shows the totals for each country by programme, and the final row shows an average per project for each programme:
